

Dungeness Crab

Dungeness Crab

Metacarcinus magister (formerly Cancer magister)

- In order to grow they must molt (shed their old shell) and develop a new one.
- Can regenerate lost limbs.
- Males locate females by following pheromones in their urine.
- A single female can produce up to 2.5 million eggs.

